Feast of the Holy Trinity

We read in John's Gospel this week:

"But when he comes, the Spirit of truth, He will guide you to all truth. He will not speak on his own, but He will speak what He hears, and will declare to you the things that are coming. He will glorify me, because He will take from what is mine and declare it to you. Everything that the Father has is mine; for this reason I told you that he will take from what is mine and declare it to you."

The Trinity has always been talked about as a mystery. The passage above sort of leaves us in the mystery state. But after we look at it for a while we see that there is a relationship between the Son and the Father and the Holy Spirit.

This relationship of listening and speaking and giving begins to show us that God is relational in God's very core. We can tend to think that a good life is a life where we don't need other people but this is not who God is at the core and we are made in the image of God. So we look fundamentally at what it means to be truly human And we see that it is in relationship that we truly come alive. This leads us as we pray about it to the relationship in the church. Believers working towards a common cause led by the Father Son and Holy Spirit . May we continue to work together for the good of the world.

Blessings
